Vaccination Will Beat Rabies Menace

LAC LA BICHE — Quite often familiarity breeds contempt and such is the case with rabies in this district. Rabies has been in the wild life in this district for about four years now and many of us have not even seen an animal afflicted with the disease. However, the disease is still present in the wild life in this area and there is potential a danger to our livestock, dogs and to ourselves. Very recently there was a positive case of rabies in a cow in this area which proves that the disease is still present. Of course there is no cause for alarm but we should do all we can within reason to help stop its spread and possibly wipe it out.

One way we can help stop the spreading of rabies is to vaccinate our dogs and cats. Dogs are the biggest threat of spreading rabies to man as man is more likely to be bitten by a dog than any of the other animals. Cats are also able to inflict the disease upon us and were the cause of several people taking the Pasteur treatment last year. In one case near Slave Lake a proven rabid cat was the cause of four people getting injections. If you have your dogs and cats vaccinated against the disease and they are bitten by a rabid animal there is a very slim chance of them becoming infected. If on the other hand they were not vaccinated there is a pretty good chance of them getting the disease.

The vaccination of dogs and cats is provided free of charge by the federal government and should be taken advantage of by everyone for the mutual protection of yourself and your neighbors. A veterinarian will be in your district soon to vaccinate your dogs and cats against rabies. There is a poster in your post office and a schedule in this paper telling you the day and time he will be in your district.

Charron

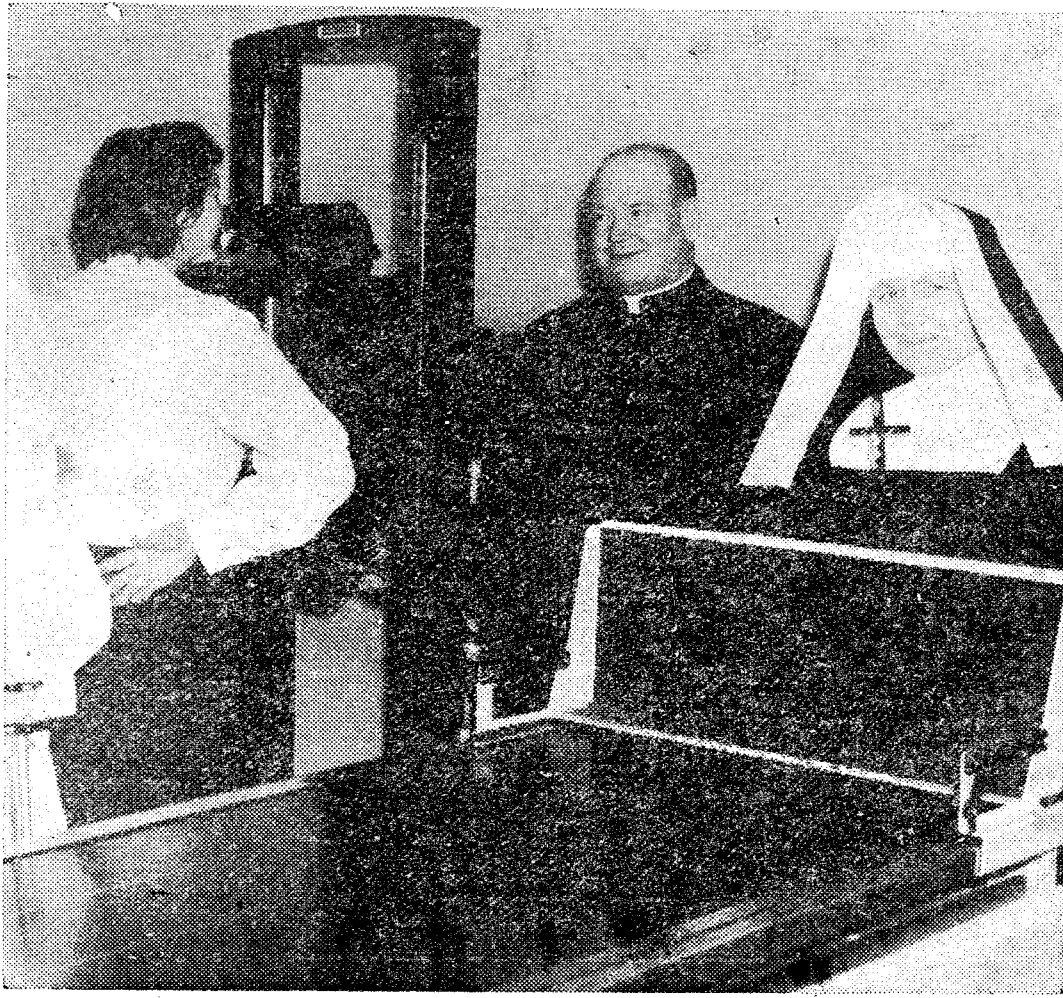

Miss Cecile L'Heureux of Egg Lake became of the bride of Raymond Steed of Charron, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Steed, in a recent ceremony.

The Charron to Grassland van routes were snowbound for a week. The van made its daily route through Plamondon for a week, making a long ride for the youngsters.

Clifford St. Jean has gone to Grande Prairie for the winter. A few other people have left the district for the winter months also, namely, Mr. and Mrs. Edmond St. Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Donat Cote, Mr. and Mrs. George Gauthier, Raymond Gauthier, Frank Duda and Joe Semeskavich.

Louis Inicki and Sandy Karpetz made a business trip to the city.

Miss Gail Karpetz visited a friend, Sharron Ballard, at Grassland.

Marie Dubon, Reverend Father J. E. McGrane and Sister Mary of Providence, Administrator, are pictured with the new X-ray unit, which has been installed in St. Catherine's Hospital, Lac la Biche.

St. Catherine's Hospital, Lac la Biche Receives Gifts Of Chest X-Ray Unit

Officials of St. Catherine's Hospital, Lac la Biche, have recently accepted a new chest X-ray unit. Installed at a cost of $2,600, the unit will materially assist in tuberculosis case-finding in Lac la Biche and district. The Chest X-ray Unit was donated by the Alberta Tuberculosis Association with monies derived from the sale of Christmas Seals.

The new hospital was officially opened in 1955 at an impressive ceremony, by Lieut. Governor J. J. Bowlen.

Frains

A fine crowd attended a dance in the Community Hall, sponsored by the ladies of the Orthodox Church of Sarraill. Boyle Orchestra supplied the music.

George Cherniwan, who was rushed to Lac la Biche Hospital, has returned home.

George Wasylenchuk was in the city for a medical check-up.

Plamondon

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. George H. Kluthe of St. Albert on the birth of their first baby, a boy, Irwin Doyle, born Dec. 17, 1955. The boy was baptized on New Year's Day. Godparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. Beaudet. Mrs. Kluthe was formerly Alice Bosse of Plamondon.

Elmer Plamondon is employed at Imperial Mills, Mile 137.

Lyle Steed is hauling hay to Edmonton.

William Cline has sold his farm and will soon move to Regina, Sask.

Mr. and Mrs. John St. Jean of Edmonton were visiting friends and relatives here.

A wedding dance for Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Plamondon was held at the Plamondon Hall on Jan. 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Plamondon and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Plamondon drove to Athabasca to visit John Ashakar, who is seriously ill.

Lions Plan Zone Meeting In June

GIBBONS — Norman Knott, zone chairman for district Lion's Clubs, has announced intention of holding the next zone meeting at Lac la Biche. A date in June is yet to be selected.

At the Monday, Jan. 23 meeting of the local club held here, members heard a short talk on the Lac la Biche district from T. W. Pue, publisher of the Edmonton Sun, Lac la Biche Herald, Smoky Lake Gazette and other Alberta weekly papers.

Mr. Pue said that June is an ideal time to hold a convention at Lac la Biche. Two hotels offer good, ideal accommodation and fishing is good at that time of the year, both for Northern Pike and Pickerel. Lac la Biche, he concluded, is a good place to spend a holiday, anytime.

The Gibbons' Lions saw some home movie films and heard reports of the zone chairman and Clem Lamoureux, on the recent trip to Lethbridge. The Club is planning a new project and consideration is being given to the best type of project for them to promote.

Twelve members attended the meeting, chaired by vice-president Murray Legate. President, Earl Yeo, was detained in the city. Dinner was served in the banquet room of the Gibbons Coffee Shop by Mrs. Clara Williams, assisted by Mrs. Joan Wearmouth.

Secretary of the Gibbons' Club is Tim Gibbons. Louis Lamoureux is Lion Tamer and Wally Knott, Tail Twister.

Mr. Pue asked the group to appoint a press reporter who would send into the Edmonton Sun, regular reports of the club meetings and other activities.

The Chrysler Corporation recently reported that its first quarter earnings in 1955 were greater than earnings for the full year of 1954.

Lac la Biche

Mrs. Louis Richard spent ten days in the city recently with her daughter, Yvette, who is in training in an Edmonton hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kramer have returned after a month's holiday in Armstrong, B.C. and parts of U.S.A.

Ross White, manager of the Treasury Branch, has been transferred to Vegreville with his family.

Mrs. Lloyd is home again after being a patient in the hospital for a week.

Mrs. Austin is also a patient in the Lac la Biche Hospital.

Mrs. Kibee and daughter, Joan, accompanied Mr. Kibee to Edmonton, where he will leave to join his crew in the N.W.T.

Michael Hamar has been to the city on a business trip.

Mrs. Breaux went to the city on a short visit recently.

Walter Inicki

Elected Delegate

On Saturday Walter Inicki was declared elected as divisional trustee for the local sub-division of Athabasca School Division, No. 42.

Mr. Inicki was educated at Blue Jay and Grassland Schools, and after passing Grade 12 at Grassland, attended the University of Alberta for three years, obtaining the degree of Bachelor of Commerce.

He later worked for the Massey-Harris Co. in Edmonton, and for the past year has operated his father's Massey-Harris Agency in Grassland.

Lac La Biche

Resident Dies

Mr. Burgo of Lac la Biche died in the Athabasca Hospital recently and was interred in the Lac la Biche cemetery on Monday, Jan. 16.

He leaves to mourn four daughters, Mrs. R. Labonte, Wandering River; Mrs. Fred Tardi, Bonnyville; Mrs. Raymond and Mrs. Marion Diesel of Lac la Biche; also seven grandchildren.

W.I. Chooses

Committees

The January meeting of the Lac la Biche WI was held at the home of Mrs. Linnell Jan. 17 with 13 members present. Mrs. MacMillan will now be library convener.

Mrs. Strong, constituency convener, will be present at the February meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Mastaler.

Committees were chosen to set up the year's work.

After the meeting was adjourned, Mrs. Linnell and Mrs. Chester served a lovely lunch.

Joe Ladouceur

Called To Rest

LAC LA BICHE—Joe Ladouceur, aged 58, an old-timer of this district, passed away in an Edmonton hospital Jan. 15. He was interred in the local cemetery Jan. 19. He leaves to mourn three sisters and three brothers, Mrs. Grover, Calgary; Emerise and Julia, Lac la Biche; Maxim, Plamondon; John, Hay River, N.W.T., and Michael of Lac la Biche.

LAC LA BICHE SECRETARY TO TAKE NEW POSITION AT DRAYTON VALLEY

T. B. Cumming, who for the past three years has been secretary-treasurer of the town of Lac la Biche is leaving his post at the end of this month. Effective as of Feb. 1, Mr. Cumming will take over new duties in a similar capacity at Drayton Valley.

The village of Drayton Valley is at present under the direction of the Department of Municipal Affairs. Until a council is elected to take over in March, 1957, Mr. Cumming will act in the capacity of town manager.

Mr. Cumming came to Lac la Biche as a pulp wood buyer. He took over the secretary's duties when E. H. Weeres left to become secretary-treasurer of the town of Vermilion. He is now at Stettler.

Berny

Ulric Menard was a patient at the St. Catherine's Hospital in Lac la Biche for a few days.

Alex Bosse is now working at R. H. Pollock's camp.

Miss Cecile Menard and Miss Susan Bourassa, who are working in Lac la Biche, were visiting in the district last week.

The government snowplow opened district roads, except one mile west of Berny and half a mile between Berny and Egg Lake, which will have to be opened by a "cat" because the snow is piled too high for the plow.

Couple Pledge Vows At Lac la Biche

Miss Alice Koerner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Koerner of Lac la Biche, became the bride of Warren Moulder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Moulder of New Westminster, formerly of Hardisty, at a ceremony in St. Andrew's Anglican Church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a tiered gown of white nylon lace. She was attended by her sisters, Miss Tillie and Miss Judith Koerner.

The groom's attendants were Ralph Koerner of Wandering Lake and Carl Walker of Hardisty. Miss

EARLY MORNING FIRE DESTROYS SIX-ROOMED SCHOOL AT TWO HILLS

Fire causing damages estimated at $50,000 to $60,000 broke out about 5:30 a.m. Tuesday and gutted the inside of a six-roomed school in Two Hills. Only the walls, which were made of brick, were left standing.

The fire brigade, under Fire Chief Steve Sorochan, rushed to the scene and by 7:30 a.m. the flames were under control, though small outbreaks continued, and firemen did not leave the scene until all danger of fire spreading to the eight-roomed new wing and gymnasium had passed. The all-clear was sounded about 12 noon.

Fire is reported to have started in the coal bin. A fire wall between the recently completed addition and the old school prevented the flames from spreading.

School officials were holding a meeting on Wednesday to consider accommodation for the pupils of grades 1, 2 and 3. Classes are now being held in the churches and the community hall.

Many Enjoy Toboggan Slide

HIGHLAND VIEW — About 45 young people and adults from the Hughtenden and Metiskow Pentecostal churches gathered on the evening of Dec. 30, for a toboggan slide at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lindskoop.

A short devotional service followed, led by Jim Finman. Viennas, buns, coke and coffee were served.

Three Win Lions Club Scholarships

The Andrew Lions club has for the eighth successive year, presented three of the Andrew school students each with a $25.00 scholarship.

Ten-year-old Marlene Blashko received the $25.00 for having attained the highest mark in music. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Blashko and her music teacher is Mrs. Bay, wife of Rev. Dr. T. Bay.

Elsie Tyrrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Tyrrell, received the scholarship for having attained the highest grade 9 standing in Andrew school.

Marie Melnyk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Melnyk, received the $25.00 scholarship for having obtained the highest standing in grade 12.

J. W. Huculak, chairman of the Lions Education committee, made the presentations at the Christmas concert held in the high school auditorium.

"Finders Keepers" No Longer True

THORHILD—The age-old children's jingle, "finders keepers, losers weepers," no longer holds true here.

Now, an unique community service is being carried on by Pete's Specialty Shop, to return lost property to its rightful owners. Since before Christmas, Pete Kotylak, the proprietor has operated a "lost and found" department. Finders leave the lost articles at the coffee counter in the store and the losers call and identify their belongings and regain possession.

Mr. Kotylak says that since he started this free service, lots of gloves and mitts and other articles have been turned in, and the majority given back to their owners.

Last fall Pete's installed modern rest rooms for the convenience of patrons.

52 Members Of Family At Reunion

CZAR — Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Doetzel visited their father, Jacob Doetzel, on the farm at Primate, Sask., on Jan. 1. They drove to Primate and were taken the remaining three miles by sleigh.

What was planned as just a casual New Year's visit turned into a large family reunion as 52 members of the Doetzel family came home, too. One brother was home from Notre Dame College at Wilcox, Sask., and one sister, the youngest in the family was home from studies at the convent at Praelate.

Mr. Doetzel renewed acquaintances with 22 grandchildren. Of his family of 12 children, only one was absent, a son who is a missionary at Telegraph Creek, B.C.

Local Red Cross Chapter Assists Burned Out Family

Mrs. Bruce Williams, president of the local chapter of the Canadian Red Cross, has issued an appeal for help for the Maurice Gagnon family of Redwater district, whose home and entire belongings were destroyed by fire on Tuesday evening of last week.

The Red Cross has already given them emergency relief, however the family is now left without anything other than the articles supplied and Mrs. Williams is asking Redwater and district residents for any household article which is in good repair, clothing of all kinds, (whether summer or winter), household linens, bedding, in fact, anything of which you may have two, and do not use at the present time.

Clothing should be in good repair, as a "burned-out" housewife is not in a position to sit down and mend, without mending materials.

Articles may be left at the dairy, which is being used as an emergency depot. The dairy is open from nine to five every day except Wednesday and if there is no one there you may leave your donation at the door and it will be picked up before five o'clock.

Any article is welcome to help these people re-establish themselves.

Barn Destroyed By Fire, Pigs Die

IMPERIAL — Andrew Olineck of the Ridge Park district had his barn totally destroyed by fire Jan. 14. Mr. Olineck discovered the fire in the morning and at that time thought he had extinguished it. A short time later he re-entered the barn only to find the ceiling ablaze.

With the help of his brother, John, he managed to get out the livestock in the barn. However, a litter of 10 young pigs died later as a result of smoke. Mr. Olineck reports several other animals, with the exception of two, have fully recovered from the effects heavy smoke.

Besides the loss of shelter for his livestock in this severe weather, Mr. Olineck also lost a loft full of good quality brome grass and cut feed.

A two-thirds rise in advertising is predicted by 1970.

"Flying Saucer" Lights Sky With Brilliance Flash Of Lightning

By T. C. HAZELL

McLENNAN—When a reporter is greeted by a "flying saucer" as he steps out of his snack at 5:15 a.m. on Monday morning, it should be news. The object blazed into life out of complete darkness and lit the sky with about the brilliance of a distant flash of lightning.

It appeared to start about a mile east and slightly south of McLennan and travelled east at an incredible speed, giving off a flickering light until, in a matter of seconds, it disappeared as suddenly as it had come into being.

The object seemed to be about the size of a table saucer and was bluish white in color. It reminded me of a falling star minus the trail of sparks, but very few falling stars could have matched its speed.

District Family Burned Out

Fire completely gutted the farm home of Maurice Gagnon, located eight miles south and one mile west of Redwater, on Tuesday evening of last week.

The Gagnon family, which consists of Mr. and Mrs. Gagnon and their three daughters, aged 14, 10 and eight, and their son, aged six, escaped in scanty attire from the burning building. Nothing was saved.

At the present time they are staying with friends in Fort Saskatchewan, and the Red Cross has sent them emergency supplies and outfits.

We Can't Win

Grant McConachie, president of Canadian Pacific Air Lines, says that an air line from Edmonton to Denmark by the new "Polar" route will save 1,000 miles of travel over the present route via Montreal. It seems that C.P.A. would like to get the franchise to fly Edmontonians direct to Europe.

If Mr. McConachie plans on soaking his customers on this proposed new service in the same degree that air travellers have been gouged for years between Edmonton and points in Northern Canada, his line will be a financial flop. But that isn't likely. Flying to Europe is a competitive business. Rates will be reasonable. Flying to Yellowknife, C.P.A. has a monopoly. The hard-pressed travellers on this route can only swallow hard and pay the exorbitant rates. There isn't even an alternative dog team service.

Anyone foolish enough to think that C.P.A., given the monopoly to fly the polar route to Europe, will save its customers a proportionate sum on each flight to the 1,000 miles of travel it saves, has another "think" coming. It costs now just as much to fly the "long" way to Europe by Montreal and London from Vancouver, as it does the 1,000 miles shorter route held by C.P.A.

The Canadian public just can't win when a greedy corporation gets monopoly control of the nation's life lines.

Is This The End Of Bingo?

Perhaps the promoters of Bingo games in Alberta have killed the goose that laid the golden egg. A young man, accused of cheating when he "won" a car one week and a $12,000 house the next, has turned the spotlight of public opinion on this whole business of Bingo.

Any operator of Bingo is carrying on with a slim margin between legality and illegality, according to our Canadian laws on gambling. The authorities can put any interpretation of the law that they choose to any individual case, and it will come out right. It all depends on the wishes of the Attorney-General.

In Alberta, Premier Manning is Attorney-General. He is also a preacher and an evangelist. A group of fellow preachers last week appealed to him in a body to clamp down on bingos.

All Mr. Manning has to do is say the word and there'll be no more bingos. Whether it would be politically wise for the premier to do this is a question only he can decide.

What we need in Canada is a sane approach to the whole problem of gambling. Laws against gambling are made to protect the weak-minded citizen from becoming a regular gambler. He's the one who suffers the most, along with his wife and children, because the professional gambler is bound to lose in the end.

However, these same laws should protect the local community or service organization which puts on the occasional bingo to raise funds for worthy projects. The law should protect these groups with well-defined rules and regulations.

The Lions' Club of Edmonton are entitled to credit for the manner in which they detected the fraud of Frank Pasek and made the award to a legitimate winner, Fred Menie of Whitford.

Mending Broken Hearts

The old Ramee of Sarawak once wrote, "What a lovely thing it would be if one could go about with a golden solder, mending and fixing up broken hearts. But I am not clever at it. I understand worms better."

There is no such golden solder, but there is a loving sympathy which most nearly approaches it, and if one is really in earnest in the desire to help his broken-hearted fellow-men he will find the way open up astonishingly. There are certain things we cannot do, but there are thousands of things we can do which will materially lessen the number of broken hearts in the world; and we, each one of us, no matter how humble, may illustrate the truth of the old prophecy, "And a man shall be as a hiding-place from the wind, a covert from the tempest, and as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land."

Each child of God may measure up to this — if only he is willing to pay the price.

Selling For Foreign Currencies

From time to time the suggestion is made that Canada should be selling wheat for foreign currencies in a manner similar to that employed by the United States. Government officials and members of the Wheat Board have contended that doing so would give this country little advantage. On many occasions they have expressed the opinion that United States surplus disposal policies were creating ill will abroad and were antagonizing many of that country's regular customers. Trade officials said that while selling for foreign currency might bring some immediate benefits, in the long run it would do more harm than good.

Now the feeling appears to be spreading in the United States that it is a mistake to push foreign currency sales too hard. Writing recently, John Cipperly, Washington correspondent for the Northwestern Miller, had this to say:

"Government officials, for a long time close to the frictions between the private export trade and the encroaching and threatening monopoly of the Commodity Credit Corporation in the export field of wheat and cotton, say that if Public Law 480 remains on the statute book for three years there probably will be no dollar sales of wheat."

"Officials assert that PL 480, a congressional device to stimulate foreign sales, has utterly failed in its purpose. Export sales of U.S. agricultural surpluses have about reached or even passed their peak and further fantastically liberal sales offers by the Foreign Agricultural Service as now seen as worsening foreign relations between the U.S. government and badly needed friends in foreign areas as prices are cut to a level where the precise sales value may never be calculated."

THE 1956 Seasons

It may be hard to believe, as Winter tightened its grip, that the days are already getting longer, and the sun shines on Alberta a little longer each day.

This is because the Winter Solstice occurred in late December, 1955, when the sun entered Capricornus.

Spring this year will come with the Vernal Equinox, on March 20, at 10:21 a.m., when the sun enters Aries. It is hard to believe that Spring is only about two months away, but that is when Spring begins this year.

The Summer Solstice occurs on June 21, at 5:24 a.m., when the sun enters Cancer, and Summer will last until the Autumnal Equinox on September 22, at 8:36 p.m., when the sun enters Libra.

Thereafter, Autumn will continue until the Winter Solstice, which occurs on December 21 at 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon, when the sun once again enters Capricornus.

For those who watch morning and evening stars, Mercury is favorably situated to be seen as an evening star in January, as is Venus, which will be an evening star longer than Mercury, or until about June 22. Thereafter, Venus will be a morning star for the rest of the year.

Morning stars to be seen now, include Mars, which will be a morning star until until September, when it will become an evening star for the rest of the year. Jupiter will be a morning star until February 16, and Saturn will be a morning star until May 20. From that date until November 27, Saturn will be an evening star.

Note and Comment

The word "pan American", is simply an adjective made up of the word American with a prefix meaning "all" or "together". Strictly speaking it means all the countries of the American continent, including Canada; but in practice it usually means the United States, Mexico and the countries of South America.

The greatest deposit of asbestos in the world lies at Thetford Mines and Asbestos, about 100 miles south of Montreal, between the St. Lawrence and the Quebec-Vermont border.

OPPOSES FLUORIDATION

I think this is a matter which should be given serious attention by all who believe in the democratic right to choose or refuse on one's own behalf, and for his children. In discussing this question, I wish to say first of all, that my approach is simply that of an intelligent layman, who has been trying to get all the authentic information possible on this important subject. My position, however, I dare to assert, is not any different to that of over 90 per cent of the members of the Dental Associations, scarcely any individual members of which have done any personal research on the effects which the artificial fluoridation of drinking water can have on the teeth, or other parts of the human body, over any considerable period of years.

A good many people must be finding it rather difficult to understand why the dentists in Alberta are so anxious to introduce the fluoridation of Edmonton's public water supply, if this treatment will, as they claim, help to permanently prevent caries in human teeth. Such an altruistic attitude is very commendable, but so unusual, that I thought the matter deserving of further investigation. I now have information in my possession stating that in districts where artificial fluoridation has been tried, it only DELAYS the incidence of caries; and when children have reached a few years beyond the age of 12, previous to which the benefits are supposed to be gained, then their teeth show more deterioration than do those who have not drank fluoridated water at all. More than this, authentic reports indicate that the artificial fluoride makes the teeth brittle so that as the years go by, much more and expensive dental attention is needed.

The Dental Associations have no reason to be proud of the methods they have adopted in trying to get the people to agree to this mass fluoridation treatment. They have put out speakers who have harped continually on the line that it is only the ill-informed, noisy and ignorant, who are opposed to fluoridation. Those speakers have compared fluoridation to chlorination, and vaccination, which no intelligent person would do. The Edmonton city health officer has seriously erred in this respect. Surely, he can see the difference between treating water with chlorine to destroy contagious disease bearing organisms; and, on the other hand, the fluoride treatment which is put into water solely for its effect in the body to produce certain physiologic changes. Changes which can have a serious effect on the general health of some people in later years.

Neither should it escape the attention of Edmonton citizens that only the other day, a breakdown occurred in the machinery that mixes lime in the city water and this mishap allowed the chlorine taste to be much stronger. Dr. Little's assurance that the machinery for mixing the sodium fluoride is reliable and highly accurate, is not, in view of his other statements, proof that it is infallible.

It is most unfortunate for the dignity of the dental profession that those who have been speaking in favor of the fluoridation of the public water supply, have taken time out to slander those who dare to disagree with them, rather than confining themselves to establishing the merits, or otherwise of their cases. It is also noticeable that those same speakers have neglected entirely to deal with the democratic rights of the individual to choose how and when, he or she shall be doctor. Science is supposed to make men free. This does not

NO RHYME, NO RHYTHM NO WIT, NO HUMOR

Recently I received a letter from one of your editors, stating that the stuff I wrote for your "Voice of the People" column was actionable. The editor was very probably right in refusing to print it, but I'll bet a plugged nickel she read it over twice.

As for me, well, I am a very candid person and totally irresponsible. As long as I tell the truth, I don't care who it's about or what it is. I can always tell it to the parties involved. Consequences? Huh. They don't bother me in the least. So much for that.

Now then, if I may be a little critical for a moment, I see an awful lot of poor items in your paper. Just bunk. If I couldn't do better than that, I'd quit writing altogether. No wit, no humor. That also goes for the articles in your "Poet's Corner". No rhyme, no rhythm, no wit, no humor. People will give more for a good "belly" laugh, especially in times like this.

Furthermore, if you will pardon my (seeming) ego, I've been asked, times without number, why I quit writing in your columns. Some had the idea I was on the staff or in some way connected with your paper. I had to tell them that I've written plenty, but the stuff is never printed. What else could I say?

Well, I guess this will be about enough from me. I may write a few verses for the column and enclose it herewith.

Chas. Dapping, Sr.
Pembroke.

THE LORD'S MONEY

The big question we hear around the country is, "What shall I do with my money?" This is one of the important questions that youth is called to answer in these days. What others may do with their money is not so much my business, but what I do with my own is exceedingly important to me. One of the grave evils of today is waste, waste which breeds poverty, waste which spells degeneracy. There is a foolish idea that happiness may come from spending money; this often means that when the money is gone, we realize to our dismay, that we have had neither happiness nor benefit. We are paying all too dearly for our whistle. Most of us have none too much money for our needs; is it not advisable that we consider the spending of it carefully, with due regard to both the present and the future? The Church of God has a claim on our incomes, which is not always acknowledged; yet it is based on the soundest of reasoning. It seems that giving played such an important part right down through the ages. We can start with Abraham as he gave his portion to the Lord, and after that, scores of other people did likewise and people still today bring their tithes and offerings to the House of God. Even the government will recognize your giving to a church, and will deduct for income tax. The church has been, and will be, one of the greatest factors in the well-being of society. We owe it more than we can ever pay. Are we paying as much as we can of our debt to it?

Exchange Of Some Territories Made By Municipal County Councils

THORHILD — The Municipal District of Athabasca and the County of Thorhild are making transfers of certain small sections of their respective territories.

At the January meeting of the County of Thorhild, a delegation composed of Mr. Aloisio and Mr. Breckenridge, representing the M.D. of Athabasca, No. 103, conferred with the Council in connection with their proposal that the County annex Sections 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18 of 63-19-W4 and 63-20-W4, and Sections 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17 of 63-21-W4. They stated that the children of this area are already being vanned to Newbrook and that the roads all lead to Newbrook and on these grounds requested that the County accept their proposal. The County Council decided to recommend to the Department of Municipal Affairs and to the Department of Education that they annex from the M.D. of Athabasca, No. 103, the following lands:

1. The fraction of the W½ of Sec. 14 west of Long Lake, Sections 15, 16, 17 and 18 of 63-19-W4.
 2. Sections 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18 of 63-20-W4.
 3. Sections 13, 14 and 15 of 63-21-W4. Carried unanimously.
- It was recommended to the Department of Municipal Affairs that Sections 28 and 33-62-22-W4 be transferred from this County to the M.D. of Athabasca. Carried.

Says Macfadden Died Penniless

JERSEY CITY, N.J. — An associate of the late Bernarr Macfadden said here the physical culturist died penniless.

Edward Bodin, president of Bernarr Macfadden Foundation, Inc., said the estate has an $18,000 tax claim against it and probably won't be able to meet funeral and legal costs.

"If any money is ever realized on his estate, it will be for the sale of his life story to the movies, or the finding of buried treasure which Macfadden had forgotten," Bodin said.

Immigration Down In 1955

OTTAWA — Immigration to Canada slipped more than 30 per cent in 1955, barely getting over the 100,000 mark, responsible officials here estimate.

The reason? They say immigrant pools in foreign lands are drying up because of better economic conditions and more employment abroad.

They estimated the 1955 total won't be more than 110,000 immigrants, compared with the 154,227 persons who came to Canada's shores to make new homes in 1954. The official 1955 figure won't be available until next month.

This latest skid — immigration has been going down almost continuously since 1951 — undoubtedly will trigger a hot debate at the new session of Parliament opening Tuesday.

Helps Motorist, Suffers Head Injuries

A seven-year-old Edmonton boy is in critical condition in Edmonton Royal Alexandra Hospital after being injured while pushing a car from a snow bank.

Police are withholding the boy's name until his father, working in the Northwest Territories, is notified.

The boy and his older brother were reported helping a motorist push his car from a snow bank and it is believed the lad slipped and hit his head either on the car or the pavement.

Hospital officials say he suffered head injuries and is in a coma.

Monoxide Kills Three In Car At Rimbey

RIMBEY — Three young persons were killed by carbon monoxide fumes a week ago while sitting in a parked car. The discovery was made by the parents of one of the victims.

Dead are: Glenda Joan Farnham, 18, of the Faraway district, 30 miles west of here and about 90 miles southwest of Edmonton; Joseph Toth, 23, and his brother, Nicholas, 25, of Alder Flats.

The bodies were found by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Farnham. The car was parked in the Farnham farm yard.

Police said they learned the trio left a dance at the Faraway school at 6:30 a.m. Sunday. The bodies were found a short time later.

Dr. G. C. Boorman, district coroner, said Monday the trio had been dead only a short time before they were discovered.

He said the left window of the car was found open about two inches. It was believed fumes seeped into the car from a broken exhaust pipe.

Card of Thanks

Edmond Smith and family wish to express their deeply felt gratitude to Father McGrane and the sisters, nurses and Doctor Cadzow of the St. Catherine Hospital for the loving care they gave to the deceased wife and mother. Further heartfelt thanks are extended to all the neighbors and friends, who gave a lending hand to the bereaved family in their hour of need.

New Career is Off to Flying Start

Canada's youngest pilot, 17 year-old Helen Bradley of Picton, Ont., added fresh laurels to her commencement of a flying career when she tied for first place in flight test and theory examinations to head the 1955 graduation class of Prince Edward Flying club. Besides receiving her wings and an individual trophy, she was also given the Dr. R. F. Evans trophy, seen here with her, which she will share during the coming year with Keith Kells of Belleville, Ont., whom she tied. The daughter of Mel Bradley, instructor of the Prince Edward Flying club, Helen became Canada's youngest pilot when she was awarded her license on Oct. 28 of this year on her 17th birthday.

News and Views From Your District Home Economist

By DORIS MONTALBETTI

Do you suffer from mid-morning slump? You know, tests have shown that increased fatigue, irritability and lowered work output are the frequent results of inadequate or omitted breakfasts. Excuses for not eating breakfast go something like this—not hungry, can't face food, no time, trying to lose weight, and so on. These just don't hold water. You can't afford to miss your breakfast, you need the nutrients that a good breakfast provides. Most Canadians are lacking in three essential food nutrients, that could so easily be obtained at breakfast. How many of you eat a citrus fruit (orange, grapefruit or tomato), or drink one of those juices at another meal if you miss it at breakfast? How about whole grain cereal and milk—you probably don't include this in your lunch or dinner. The point is, you need these foods because of the nutrients they provide and if you don't eat them at breakfast, you probably won't include them in any other meal. Secondly, your body needs energy for every move you make and there are a number of moves made in your body you aren't aware of—circulation, breathing, etc. How do you expect to meet this need for energy if you've been without food for 10-12 hours. The morning for most of us is the most active part of the day—when we use the most energy, at the fastest rate.

These dieters who moan about having cut out breakfast entirely and haven't lost a pound, are just on the wrong track. They feel hungrier and nibble away between meals and in the end, probably take more calories than a good breakfast would have provided.

Ten or fifteen extra minutes in bed won't give the pep and sparkle that the same time spent in eating an adequate breakfast will. Have fruit or juice, whole grain cereal, (porridge or ready to eat), eggs, bread butter, milk or other beverages.
